

ESTEQ

PASSION | PEOPLE | TECHNOLOGY

ESTEQ is a technology-based engineering company that focuses on improving business productivity and efficiency through engineering technology solutions. We solve the most demanding engineering & manufacturing issues, in the shortest possible times, enabling our clients to achieve business success. To do so, ESTEQ has partnered with various technology vendors like SIEMENS, MSC, and HBM for the last 25 years.

SIEMENS PLM Software solutions is a key component of ESTEQ's offering for the Aviation Industry. Through these technologies, we assist companies to streamline business processes, optimise engineering, production and support environments, and manage requirements and compliance in complex project delivery cycles. In general terms: to digitalise our client's businesses and drive them towards Industry 4.0 production environments.

We believe in using leading technology and best practices from around the world and backing this technology with a team of the best engineers to provide excellent service and expertise to our customers.
